John Thomas: Our participant is assessing the situation, at a glance, he is advancing towards the table. He's got the lay of the land, and his balls in position. His cue's been chalked and he's raring to go. The pockets are bulging and yes he's lunging at one with great fervour and everyone's sitting up with baited breath, what is it? It's a packet of condoms. Well done lad, well done. That's a good break for you both.

Handy hints

John: And now it's time for our handy hints. Here's Alison Alison: Thanks John. Today I'm going to show you all the things you can do with a condom. Here's a good one, always goes down well at parties. Open the condom packet, that's right. Take out the condom and unfold it. Now stretch it over your head, covering your nose and breathe into it. Voila, an instant inflatable cone head.

John: Good idea Alison. Now for another one, again, good for parties. Tear the cardboard wrapped in the packet and then place your lips over opening, and blow. Once you fill the condom full of air, tie a knot, and there you have it. A see through, slippery, slidey party balloon.

Both: Arrgh!

Alison: Marvellous but by the way, to use the condom sensibly is by taking it out of the packet, that's it. Just before you have sex roll it over the erect male organ and then off you go. Whoopee.

John: Well there you have it some handy ways to use a condom. Next week, how to get satellite TV using a contraceptive coil.

Rab C Nesbit
impersonation

Rab: Hey you. Yeah, you listening to this radio. And dinnae do you switch off coz I'm talkin' to you big man. It's about this AIDS thing. It's about time you started using protection. This is serious. What, I'm not telling you to stop doing it, I'm just saying, cover yourself up, for crying out loud. Use the condom house, it can save your life. Oh, and another thing. Stop putting it about. It's too dangerous. You're gonna have to cut down on the number of partners you have. You can't go jumping into bed with fit folk. Those days are gone. Oh aye, and another thing, if you're one of they drug folk. Never, never share needles. It's crazy. Well. That's nearly it then. Use they condom things, cut down on the number of partners you have and if you do drugs forget sharing needles. Okay. Here's the jingle.
